The Last Light

World's Stage

started as a light cast upon the roleplay aspect of our wonderful XIV community. Over several issues, it has grown into a periodical of advice and tips to hopefully enrich each roleplayer's experience. Now, the time has come for it to open itself to the vibrant souls of the community and offer them their own moment up on the Stage!

Each month, World's Stage will accept short roleplay tales to be featured in the article. (Yes, writers will certainly have their credits!) Every feature will be themed, so get your stories, friends, and glamours ready!

Show us what happens when you take the Stage!

ARTIST SHOWCASE
アーティスト・ショーケース
예술가 쇼케이스

How long have you been creating art?

I think art has been doing me. For as long as I can remember I have always had my hands stained with paint and carried notebooks everywhere. My sister and I would put together these stage plays with different dolls and toys, but it wasn't enough, so I would start drawing decorations on paper and cardboard, and once we finished playing that would lead to drawing alternate attire, or even comics to expand the story! As I have grown, drawing is something that has always accompanied me. During classes behind notebooks, on the train on my way to work, in my free time…so I guess it's one of the few consistent things in my life.

What do you love to create the most?

What I enjoy doing changes from time to time. I often find myself obsessed with clothes and I can immerse myself in high fantasy themes, or suddenly techwear. Other times I like to learn about the traditional clothing of a culture or region because I've fallen in love after seeing a photo, and then I spend weeks drawing those out of curiosity, or dressing my characters in that style. Recently, I have found that narrating scenes can be very intimidating and for some reason that has encouraged me to experiment more with it.

What motivates you to draw?

My goal for the longest time has been to achieve the skill to portray that idea that has always been in the back of my mind in a way I'm satisfied with. And although that's still a motivation for me, it has been my interactions with the multitude of people that I've met thanks to my art that has motivated me the most. Little doodles, sharing ideas, learning new things—it has brought me many positive experiences and precious friendships.

gposers

Who/What is the inspiration behind your art?

There are some names that I would like to mention, like Norman Rockwell, Yoshitaka Amano, or Luke Mancini. Each of them has been an inspiration in different ways, but at the same time I am someone who is impressionable and easily distracted. Oftentimes it is simply an emotion or a feeling that inspires me to do something or try a new path to achieve it.

Do you accept commissions?

Yes, I do! It was only recently that I started, and it has been quite the journey.

BRIDESMOOGLE

Acquired : Attendance of an Eternal Bonding Ceremony (Gold & Platinum tier)

What is a blushing bride without a dutiful bridesmoogle to scatter petals in her general vicinity?

Moogles serving the Sanctum of the Twelve claim the magicked poppets (provided with purchase of a lavish Ceremony of Eternal Bonding) are guaranteed to bring happiness. Conveniently offer no refunds if you do not hap upon said happiness.

"Wh-What have you done with my bride!?" - Vannes

WIND-UP
RUNAR

Acquired : Final Fantasy XIV: Shadowbringers
The Art of Reflection - Histories Unwritten

Because a single Runar pining for Master Matoya isn't enough.

Designed in the likeness of Runar, this mammet was created to celebrate the signing of a trade agreement between the Night's Blessed and the Crystarium. In its pocket is a single white blossom, that the man can express his undying devotion to his beloved even if he is a world away.

"Please, Runar, dry your tears. What would the others think if they saw you like this?"
- Master Matoya

ANGEL OF MERCY

Acquired : FFXIV Online Store

Come and save me tonight.

A missing tinker has recently returned to Ul'dah claiming to have been "rescued by an angel." While most believe the man to merely be a recipient of a passerby mage's kindness, he has since dedicated his life to creating automata in the image of his heavenly savior.

"'You are the angel of beauty who gave me my life and stole away with my heart!"

BRAVE NEW Y'SHTOLA

Acquired : FFXIV Online Store

Not wont to run from her troubles-and couldn't get very far, anyway.

Lovingly crafted by the Night's Blessed, this tiny mechanical Y'shtola-"Master Matoya," to some-wears the black garb that marks her a member of their community, and bears a deadwood rod symbolising her commitment to driving back the Light.

"Did you really think I would go gently into that dark night with so much left undone?"

DEMON BOX

Acquired : Attendance of an Eternal Bonding Ceremony (Gold & Platinum tier)

There is no better way to tell a special someone “Thank you for attending my Ceremony of Eternal Bonding” than by giving them a sentient box that may or may not devour their pets.

Lacking the spells required to animate a gift in the same manner in which the ancients animated bricks, the crafter of this quaint creation simply cut a pair of holes into a wooden box and slipped it on a spriggan. Problem solved.

“That Miqo’te lass said someone’d be bringin’ me a gift I couldn’t refuse.”
- Drogo

MUSE

BY ARKANA GREY

Not a day passes where my heart yearns for romance—a book, a movie, a song! So when February rolls around, it is the month of romance in my book. In this month's Muse, we are going to look at some ways to express romance in screenshots, starting with my favorite city in the game!

Romance Abroad

Sharlayan is a romantic city, all marble and blue waters. The Last Stand is a wonderfully scenic area to take both solo and couples screenshots. For this first shot, pose the character next to each other, and in / gpose use the walking animation. You can pause them at individual times to imply the action of holding hands. A beautiful stroll by the ocean, how romantic!

In this shot, I used the pillars to frame the couple. The row of pillars and the 'corridor' gives depth to the scene. I used the Bright 4 filter for the colors and the Watercolor screen effect for the soft haze. Alternatively, you can use your favorite pastel-colored preset.

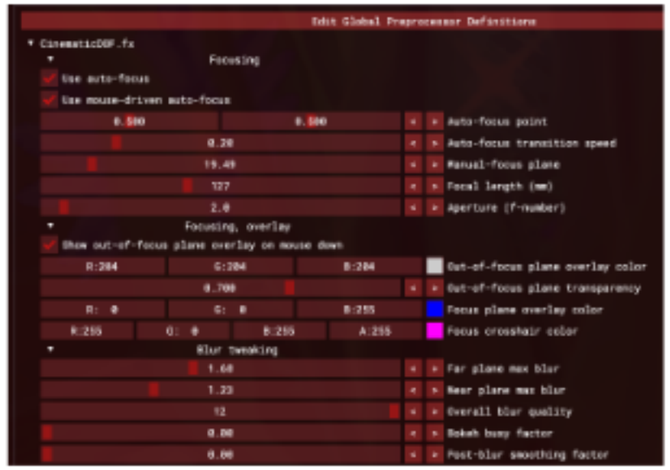
In this next scene, I sat one of the characters at the seating area of The Last Stand and used the joy emote, and the other character used the hug emote to make it intimate. Add some lighting to balance any shadows and then use the Instant Camera frame to give it the Instagram polaroid effect. Voila! A cute travel screenshot of your favorite couple. Use a GShade preset with a lens flare for a bright and romantic screenshot.

Love Letters

For this segment, we are going to talk about Depth of Field, primarily in GShade. Firstly, use some vases and flowers in your housing and set them around a letter and roses. You can also use dark lighting and one lamp nearby for some dramatic and contrasted lighting for your display!

gposers

In your favorite GShade preset, find the Depth of Field (DOF) shader. You can adjust the Focal Length to decide how much you want out of focus, and also adjust the Aperture to make a similar effect. You can also check if it has an option for mouse-driven autofocus, which means that the area in-focus will be centered on your mouse.



For this, we will mimic macro photography and set the shader options to have a small amount in focus at a time. You can adjust the sliders for the near and far planes' blur amounts. The near plane is the area closest to the camera, and the far plane will be things in the distance. If you are mouse-driven autofocus, then the near and far planes will be linked to where your mouse is pointing in the three dimensions, so keep it in mind! Once everything is set up, experiment with the angle of view setting in /gpose, as well as the camera position, to create a screenshot you are satisfied with.

Maladaptive Daydreams

For our last photoshoot, we are going to find an area that has windows or arches, just like this area in Radz-at-Han: Mehryde's Meyhane. You can either cut out the space between the arches in Photoshop or use the ChromaKey setting on GShade to automatically do it for you. Next, find your favorite sky or landscape that will contrast with these arches. I chose the sky of Ultima Thule! Then in Photoshop or similar software, place the landscape behind the arches, and you will have a wonderfully contrasted screenshot full of wonder, similar to collage art!

gposers

You can also experiment with multiple layers, using lots of different combinations of colors, patterns, and textures to make some fantastical scenes. Another great feature of the ChromaKey shader is that it can remove the background or the foreground. Why not create a silhouette of your character and make some fantastical art of them, too?

Don't forget to share your creations with us online using the #GPOSERS tag or on our Discord. See you next time with more /gpose inspiration!

Meryall Agronomics

Labyrinthos (30, 19)

The center of agricultural research into plants and cultivation in Sharlayan, the farmhands at Meryall Agronomics had secretly been tasked with assessing the suitability of plants to be grown on the moon. Now they continue their work in the case of famine or other life-altering events.

gposers

The Hedgetree

North Shroud (29, 23)

One of three sacred trees in the Black Shroud, these trees are protected by those who live there. In the North Shroud, in particular, The Hedgetree is the victim of Ixali attacks. These trees uphold the Hedge that protects the Shroud from outside invaders. The others are found in the East Shroud and the Central Shroud.

The Hundred-and-one Revelations

The Azim Steppe (6, 29)

It is believed that those who dwell within this cave receive divine revelations. The Uyagir tribe lives within the stone walls to make amends for their history of subjugation and greed. Legend states that the Gods punished the Uyagir tribe by unleashing giant beetles across the land, and this cave was made by one of these beetles.

Valentione's Day may have come and gone, but the stories of your love will stay with us forever! GPOSERS is happy to showcase the wonderful couples who were kind enough to share their stories with us. Until next year, lovebirds!

Leeja Hen - Lamia

We met in 2015 and I was still playing WoW. Nala introduced me to Final Fantasy XIV and there was no turning back! We've been together ever since and we got married in 2020! He's the best husband and also my best friend.

Vocka Victoria - Twintania

I met my fiance/partner in crime "Crys" in 2018 on Twitch! Together, we started our XIV adventure in 2019. They call us the Victorias, which sounds just about right, because together we can achieve anything. I can't wait to see what other adventures this game will bring us.

Escher Strange - Zodiark

We RPed over the pandemic, realised our mutual attraction was no gimmick; 2 (3??) continents apart waiting to meet until then, this will have to be it.

Julia Rose - Omega

Met this bloke way back in HW. Many drunk calls, 4 years of an LDR, 2 DC moves, a whole FC and a static, all sorts of drama, and a move to England later... can't believe we've been together for so long that I'm willing to sap up my TL for him. But I love him really.

Endor Dalah - Malboro

Ten years ago my boyfriend and I met on something sort of like an anime forum, and in December of 2015 we transitioned from best friends to a couple. We moved in together a while back and that's when the hunt for the best multiplayer experience began. Three years into XIV and we're still having such a fun time!

Dylan - Spriggan

We met last year in another game and we realised instantly how good our match was both in game and in real life. Such a passionate adventure could not end there, so we decided to start the Endwalker journey together. The FF main story may come to an end but not ours. Time flies so fast when we're talking, sharing, and playing. Every moment together is magical with laughter and genuine feelings. That's how we are: a couple made of passion, emotion, and warmth.

Alais - Phoenix

Two years ago we met and have had a lot of fun ever since. Laughter and tears with our RPs, long evenings of fun decorating, hours of singing and enjoying musicals and movies... A few months ago we began to share something else together, to get to know each other better, we even got to have our ideal date in London, and they have been the most romantic, sweet and happy months I have ever lived. She is my inspiration, my better half and I love her.

dearly beloved - Famfrit

All it took was a coincidence. One moment where we happened to be in the right place at the right time. We became acquaintances, then friends, then to the kind of partners we never thought we would be.

How long has it been since? How many days have we spent forgetting about the time when we're in each other's presence?

We laugh about how ridiculous our two characters can be when they're infatuated with one another, making jabs about how that's never going to be any of us... and then we did. We are now one and together. I could have never imagined that a chance encounter at the aetheryte plaza to one invitation to become roleplay partners would make us into a romantic pair, and I don't think I would have it any other way.

Redneck - Twintania

One day I was doing treasure maps with my FC and a friend shouted to recruit. We laughed about a typo, so he changed the macro and I said to him to shout it again because this time it will work. 10 seconds after someone whispered at him to join us; we couldn't believe the odds! I quickly became friends with this new guy, sending dumb memes at each other and one day we realized there was way more between us, so I traveled across the country to meet him. Now we are living together and still playing FF every night together.

Yuma Tehp - Sargatanas

The haunting and vexatious memories I have of creating my Resistance weapon were replaced with memories of mirth and endearment—neither of us expected our late-night Discord calls to evolve into afternoon binge-watching sessions or shift into flying cross-country to be together. We joke often about our shared brain cell or the slow-forming neuron between our brains, yet it is a comfort to know that we understand each other that way. Here's to the many more seconds and minutes and hours and days and months and years we'll have together. [That's a real thing he wrote, delivered via postmoogle.]

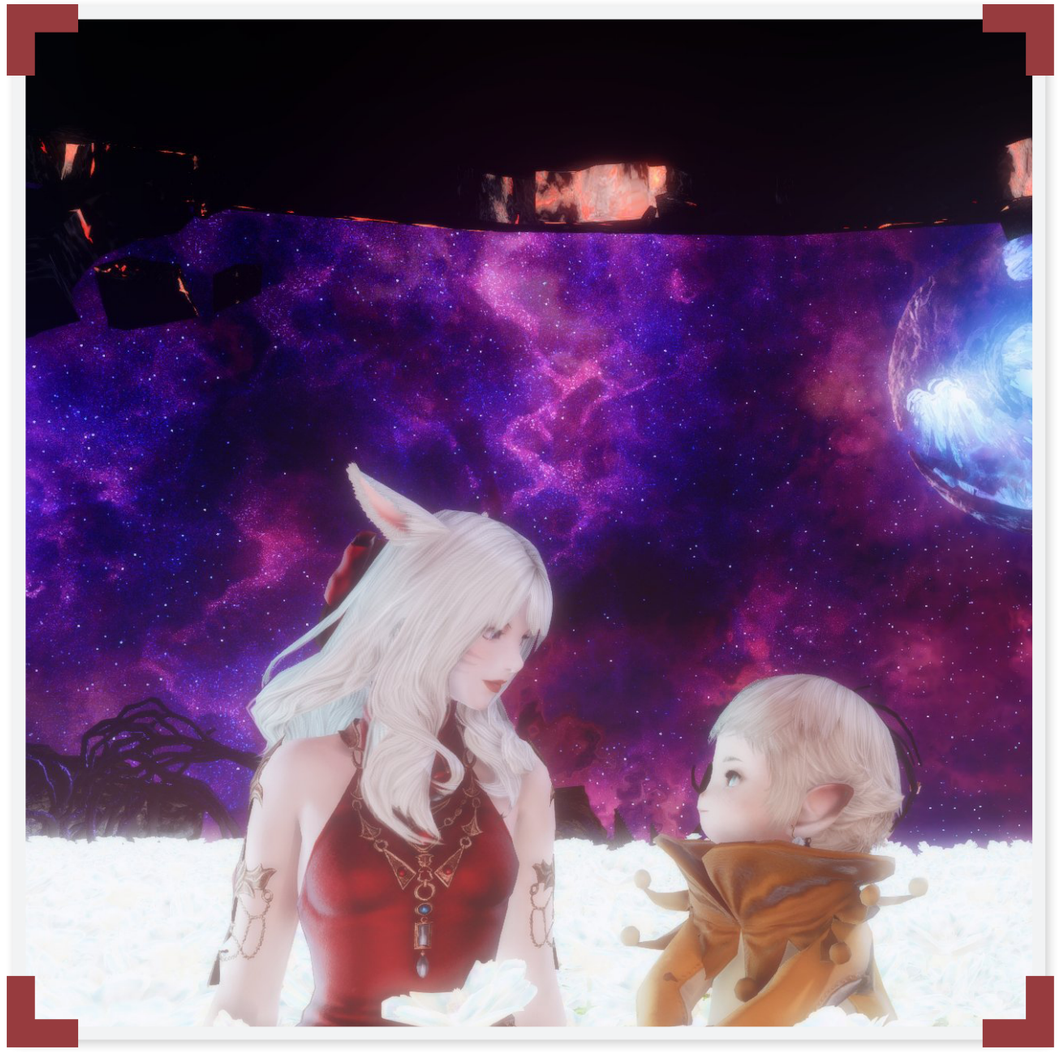
Kaguya Kaku - Siren

My girlfriend and I met right before Endwalker released, and have been dating for nearly 5 months now. I had agreed to help her old FC run extreme trials for mounts, and the two of us really hit it off. After that, I approached her as she was still in Shadowbringers, and asked if she needed help getting through MSQ and run content.

During our time together, we started talking and discovered that despite liking different things (her being into fantasy while I'm a history nerd), we enjoyed each other's company a lot. Now we've done EW together, raid, RP, and soon will meet each other in person.

saberrei - Tonberry

I remember the year 2013, my boyfriend recommended FFXIV A Realm Reborn online and he always mentioned that we can get married here. It got my interest, but I couldn't play it that time due to lack of stable internet and a PC (my laptop was still Pentium at that time lol). Many years have passed. Before, I was just a curious girl who looked at the trailers and admired it, dreaming that one day I could play this game with him... but now my boyfriend and I have been playing and enjoying the game for almost 2 years.



Siege Darling-Maximus

We met as strangers during a very embarrassing truth and dare, then became friends and eventually eternally bonded! 4 months going and hoping for many more!

Caboose

Met almost 3 years ago and half of that has been spent together. He may be states away but hopefully for not much longer.

Enify Marena - Louisoix

Met this bean on ERC while recruiting for new members for my static. We started out as just team members, to friends (thanks to ocean fishing haha), and then eventually best friends! After many memes during raid and fun chats after raid, our friendship began to blossom into something more than friends! He always knows how to put a smile on my face, I can't thank him enough for all these lovely memories (that I just bombard him with drawings, hehe).

Accel

She tried to cook me. Aurelia & I met in 2021 in-game, bonded over life, housing, and Bojza! We eternally bonded on Friday the 13th and have made beautiful memories together! She may have tried to cook me first, but I continue to make her heart sizzle.
